Universidad Nacional Costa Rica ISEP-Direct	Ingeniería en Ciencias Forestales (Forestry Engineering) <hr/> Language of Instruction: Spanish Website: www.edeca.una.ac.cr/	Heredia, Costa Rica 10,500 students The Universidad Nacional is aimed at meeting the needs of Costa Rican society. It furthers the integral development of the student through a humanistic curriculum based on the study of domestic reality and world culture. There is a growing international student body, with students from Central, South, and North America. The city of Heredia is the capital of the province of Heredia. Surrounded by coffee plantations, it is located in the central plateau about 7 miles from San José.
Massey University -Palmerston North Campus New Zealand ISEP-Direct	Ecology, Soil and Earth Sciences, Environmental Science, Forestry, Plant Protection, Landscape Management, and Natural Resource Management <hr/> Language of Instruction: English Website: inr.massey.ac.nz/	Palmerston North, New Zealand 11,000 students Massey's original campus is bicycle-friendly and set among beautiful park-like grounds. It is made up of two locations split by the Manawatu River: Turitea across the river from the city and Hokowhitu on the city-side. The city center is vibrant with many cafes, pubs, live theatre and live music. Minutes from campus are some of the best mountain bike tracks anywhere. Further a field you will find bungee jumping, river kayaking, rafting, trout fishing, horseback riding and tramping. Only two hours to the capital city of Wellington, to vineyards and beaches in Hawke's Bay, or to snow covered ski slopes at Mount Ruapehu in wintertime.
University of Stellenbosch South Africa Limited ISEP-Exchange ISEP-Direct	Forest and Natural Resource Management, Wood Products Science <hr/> Language of Instruction: English Website: academic.sun.ac.za/forestry/	Matieland, South Africa 25,000 students Located in the Western Cape of South Africa, Matieland is a modern city, a bustling center for commerce, agriculture and education with the campus as an integral part. Stellenbosch is 12 miles from beautiful beaches and 34 miles from Cape Town. The active nature-lover can enjoy the hiking trails in the surrounding mountain ranges or even a walk in the town's nature reserve. The Stellenbosch wine region is one of the oldest in the southern hemisphere and certainly regarded as the most beautiful. A student at the Department of Forest and Wood Science will also partake in social events and practical work in the field. Apart from the sport, culture and social activities presented by the broader campus, the Forest Science department has its own exciting social schedule.
