LOCATION

Chambéry is an average-size town located at an important crossroads in the heart of the French Alps. It is about 3 hours from Paris and the Mediterranean coast. Tourists enjoy the area for its Alpine and cross-country skiing and its water sports. It is well connected to major French and European cities by the high speed TGV train.

PROGRAM DETAILS

The university specializes in teaching French as a foreign language to students from non-Francophone countries. Past programs have included a welcome weekend tour of Chambéry and Savoie; a welcome cocktail party and farewell dinner gala; organized extracurricular activities, many of which are free; tutor assistance; and access to all ISEFE resources.

COURSES AND CREDITS

French language and culture courses are provided for beginning, intermediate, and advanced students. Courses aim to expand students' knowledge of French culture while honing their reading, speaking, and listening skills. Students are placed in appropriate language levels according to a placement exam taken before arrival.

A typical program includes 15 hours per week of small-group instruction, 3 hours per week of monitored language lab, and 3 workshops on aspects of local life (108 total hours of instruction, including lab; usually 5 – 6 US credits, depending on the home university's transfer policy). Most afternoons include a comprehensive range of organized sporting or leisure activities.

HOUSING AND MEALS

Students stay in single rooms in double apartments in downtown Chambéry. Meals are not included, but a kitchen is available.
